The art of everyday dressing

Start with the pieces you reach for most. A neutral palette makes it easier to combine familiar favourites, while texture adds depth without complication.

Interaction, accessibility & motion

Navigation & overlays	Menu, search, filter and bag overlays trap focus, close on Escape and restore focus to their trigger.
Product cards & variants	One shared product card. Use named colour swatches, visible stock states and clear validation for missing sizes.
Form behaviour	Keep visible labels, autocomplete attributes, inline errors and preserved input after server failures.
Loading & recovery	Skeletons preserve layout. Failed requests show retry. Submitting buttons prevent repeated actions.
Accessibility target	Aim for WCAG 2.2 AA: contrast checks, keyboard navigation, screen-reader testing and zoom to 200%.
Motion direction	Use 160-240 ms transitions and a light image fade. Honour prefers-reduced-motion and avoid forced video autoplay.

Reusable components keep the React interface consistent.

These pages describe the proposed build contract. The PDF is a visual design deliverable; the store and backend have not been implemented.

React + Laravel delivery blueprint

React storefront	Server-render or pre-render key catalogue and editorial routes for indexable HTML. Use a shared design token and component layer.
React admin	Protected staff application with role-specific navigation, server-backed lists, explicit validation and safe review steps.
Laravel API	Own catalogue, variant pricing, stock reservations, orders, customers, returns, refunds, permissions and audit events.
External services	Hosted payment provider, shipping label/tracking integration, object storage and transactional email via replaceable integrations.
Asynchronous operations	Queue emails, imports, exports and provider retries. Use signed webhooks, idempotency and visible job outcomes.
Quality gates	Validate checkout totals, overselling, duplicate webhooks, partial fulfilment, refund permissions, accessibility and responsive layouts.

Build the storefront, admin and API as clearly defined application surfaces.

Version choices and provider integrations must be selected and verified during development. Payment, delivery and tax settings are proposals until the merchant confirms them.

Launch decisions & content checklist

Decision	Current design assumption	Merchant input needed
Product range	Premium menswear	Actual categories, suppliers, variants and stock
Market & currency	UK / GBP	Selling countries, company and tax details
Brand identity	ELVARQO wordmark / warm neutral palette	Final logo, tone and approved brand assets
Catalogue content	Three illustrative products and prices	Real photos, pricing, measurements and care
Delivery booking	Courier shipment booking	Courier, warehouse, zones and service terms
Payment	Hosted card fields / provider-neutral	Provider account and supported methods
Policies	Dedicated delivery, returns, privacy, terms pages	Reviewed merchant-specific policy copy
Customer accounts	Optional / guest checkout primary	Confirm account and retention requirements
Marketing	Optional consent, off by default	Tracking stack and approved campaigns

Confirm these inputs before turning the visual design into a production store.

No fabricated customer reviews, sales achievements, certifications, manufacturing claims or payment approvals should be published from this concept.
